Year C Third Sunday in Lent,
March 20, 2022

*Isaiah 55:1-9; Psalm 63:1-8; 1
Corinthians 10:1-13; Luke 13:1-9*

"For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways and my thoughts than your thoughts." Isaiah 55:9

This text clearly states there is a "great" distance between our thoughts and God's thoughts. However, it does not say we it is beyond our ability to know and think God's thoughts. Paul informs us in 1 Corinthians 2:16 that the Believer possesses the "mind of Christ." And in Philippians 2:5, we are encouraged to let the mind of Christ rule in our minds.

Let this Lenten season be the time we claim or reclaim this miraculous blessing. Begin by remembering that all of God's thoughts towards us are loving and unconditionally accepting. Therefore, when we think the same towards our neighbor, we are thinking God's thoughts. When we give someone the "benefit of the doubt," we are thinking kindly. When our words calm anger, they come from gentle thoughts. Minds softened by peace, patience and self-control generate thoughts that translate into transformative action in every relationship, in our homes, schools, polling places, on the economy and the ecology of the cosmos.

When we think God's thoughts, heaven and earth unite.

*"...My mouth praises you with joyful lips
when I think of you on my bed,
and meditate on you in the watches of the night;
for you have been my help,
and in the shadow of your wings I sing for joy."
Psalm 63:5b-7*

*Lenten Blessings,
Rev. Julia*
